FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Conrad Kawulok receives Colorado Roofing Association Lifetime Achievement Award.

The Colorado Roofing Association (CRA) honored Conrad Kawulok at their 7th Annual Awards Banquet on February 7th with their esteemed Lifetime Achievement Award.

Kawulok is president of B & M Roofing of Colorado Inc., Frederick, Colo. and has been involved in the company for 35 years, second generation after his father and President since 1978. B & M Roofing specializes in steep- and low-slope roofing, as well as sheet-metal and service work. Notable projects include Coors Field, The Denver Mint, Park Meadows, the Denver Pavilions, twenty-seven buildings at Rocky Flats, and many schools and shopping centers.

Kawulok is a graduate of the University of Colorado at Boulder and holds a Bachelor of Science degree in business and marketing.

He has been dedicated to the roofing industry since the 70's on both a local and national level. Kawulok was one of the founding fathers of the Colorado Roofing Association and in 1982 became the second President of the CRA when it was still known as the Boulder County Roofing Association. Under his realm, the association's name was changed to Northern Colorado Roofing Association in order to accommodate members outside of Boulder County. He conducted a competition to design the first association logo, started the first Golf Tournament, drafted the associations By-Laws and Code of Ethics and created the first CRA newsletter.

Kawulok, who says the technical part the industry is what inspired him most, was able to get his technical fix through his involvement with the National Roofing Contractors Association (NRCA). He served on the NRCA board of directors for 12 years and was the organization's president in 1997. Conrad has been a member of 16 NRCA committees and task forces. In 2002, his hard work was recognized when he was presented with the roofing industry's highest honor, the J.A. Piper award. Conrad said those awards belong as much to his wife, Kathy, and children, Diana, Laura and Scott, and to the talented crew who works with him at B&M.

Kawulok takes pride in his company and industry. Whatever his future holds, one thing will be sure - he will be giving it his all.

Conrad, congratulations from the members of the Colorado Roofing Association on your receipt of the 2007 Lifetime Achievement Award.

CRA's Lifetime Achievement Award was established in 2000 to honor outstanding individuals who have contributed to the success, development and continuation of Colorado's roofing industry. For more information on the Colorado Roofing Association please visit www.coloradoroofing.org.
